INSTITUTE OVERVIEW

Planning High Impact Experiential Education programs for your campus is an effective way for your institution to address issues of retention, graduation rate, and student expectations and success both before and after graduation. This WACE Planning Institute will help you achieve your goals through a unique combination of expert faculty lectures, facilitated plan development and sustained group interaction (both formal and informal) with faculty and other participants.

During the institute, participants will develop their individual “ACTION PLAN” with input, feedback and suggestions from Institute Faculty and colleagues. All participants leave with a plan that fits their unique institutional interests. Follow-up planning, with your institution, by an Institute Faculty Mentor can be arranged through WACE.
